PROJECT FAIR
(Fighting Abuse through Investigation and Recoupment)

The South Carolina Department of Social Services implemented Project FAIR in September 1982. The name "FAIR" accurately depicts what the program represents. Emphasis is on recoupment; however, we will not hesitate to pursue incarceration of persons who flagrantly abuse the Food Stamp Program.

This project was designed to help identify, adjudicate and recoup overissuance of food stamps to ineligible households.

Quality Control data indicated that approximately $200 million in food stamp benefits were issued annually to recipients in South Carolina. Of that amount, approximately $16 million or 8% was erroneously overissued. Approximately 72% was caused by erroneous information supplied by recipients and 28% was caused by agency error.

Approximately, forty eight full time and sixteen half time claim specialists have been designated to investigate and pursue claim collections. We have collected over a million dollars in the last fourteen months. This compares to approximately $220,000 over the previous year. A percentage of collections is rebated to counties. The formula gives 62.50% of the state's share of collections to counties (for an emergency welfare fund and nonrecurring expenses); 6.25% for State Office Administrative cost; and 31.25% for the State's General Fund.

The Program Support Division, within the Office of Economic Services has responsibility for the overall administration and planning of this project. The contact person is H. Harley Mills, Director, Division of Program Support, 758-2365.
